Bigest change since first year?

Became more smarter with ever growing positive attitude towards life. Matured enough to respect contrasting thoughts and choices.

Best thing you learnt from here?

Everything is doable as it has been already done by someone, It just need a bit of hard work and dedication. That's what IIT H is all about.

One thing you'll miss the most?

The bond over things which was shared between friends be it food, traveling or doing weird nonsense stuffs. Hope that it continues forever with these guys.

One thing you regret not doing?

It would have been better to interact a lot more with girls in the campus but alas i was too shy and then it was too little too late. But yeah lesson learnt :P

What next?

Surely, I am not going to spend my entire life in this field. So, will always be open to new adventurous thoughts. Ping me in case u need reinforcements.

Partners in all crime except one :p but rivalry kahin to jaroori hai. Always there whenever any problem arises. Thoda life ko chill lo and 3/3 jaldi se karo, party chahiye :p #HahaMadrid

Best Memories in College?

There is no classification here. I like living in the present so every moment is the best moment at those times. I don't like RATING those moments.

BIGGEST change since first year?

Have to say I became more confident, stopped "stepping back and watching from the sidelines".

Best thing you learnt from here?

No matter howmuch u like staying alone, u just need some company. Self Realised.

One thing you'll miss the most?

Not one but many (will keep them to myself). But never look back and dwell in the past, Moving on is the only way.

One thing you regret not doing?

Not showing much enthusiasm in Academics in the beginning of the college itself. It will haunt me forever.

What next?

It all depends on me. I dont like keeping expectations for the future because things keep changing very fast. Life is just an advanced RPG (Role Playing Game).

One of the most creative persons I have ever met. Your positive attitude and joyful nature make your presence delightful. Never let go of them.O great (Athlete and Academic), wish u a bright future.

Best Memories in College?

Leaving the classes after attendance, exchanging looks with a "no nothing" face in exams, watching tons of anime, pleading friends to get me food :p.

Best Memories in College?

All the times I used to walk around with any close friend of mine for hours at night. Or watch something with them. <3

Biggest change since first year?

Worldview and personality. Went from having a conservative religious ideology to a crassly argumentative one, and mellowed down after that.

Best thing you learnt from here?

Taking things less seriously. 7/50 in an exam? Eh, whatever. Exam in 5 hours and didn't prep? Eh, whatever. Assignment deadline in an hour? Oh wait...

One thing you'll miss the most?

My schedule. Terribly unhealthy, college totally spoilt me. Sleeping at 4, waking up beyond 12.

One thing you regret not doing?

No ragrets whatsoever. ... If I *have* to answer this, I guess exercise and proper diet.

What next?

An year of jobless research! And then who knows? Maybe I finally start my quest to collect all infinity stones.

The first person I met in college! 4 years went so fast! All those random discussions, CP, walks, hangouts, mafia nights, movies, research, we did reminds me its been long 4 years!!

Lone fox dancing.

Best Memories in College?

Lit club, Ping!. Felicity. Monkey King. Nainital. DLF. Canteen. Fooling around with friends, lone walks down the road, long talks with seniors, football.

Biggest change since first year?

My friends grew fewer, and my friendships grew stronger. Can't have your cake and eat it too, I guess. :P

Best thing you learnt from here?

College taught me both - to weather storms, and to ride the waves. It taught me the value of living in the moment, of a true smile, of knowledge, of friendship.

One thing you'll miss the most?

The canopy of trees down the road to the gate, casting shadows in the moonlight, listening to the deepest conversations I had with my closest ones.

One thing you regret not doing?

Being more involved in college activities in my final couple of years, especially in Literary club and Ping! Making more friends, taking more road trips.

What next?

Apart from the usuals of job/higher-ed, one day I hope you guys can pick up one of my books off a bookshelf. :)

Biggest change since first year?

Having people who understand me best in all situations. Having personal space. Freedom to be who I am without *much* judgement.

One thing you regret not doing?

Regret not being more open, more earlier. Regret not being out and about whenever I could. Regret not going out of city more often.

Best Memories in College?

From freshers day to farewell day, I cherish every moment. Late night campus walks, sleeping in Yoga classes, OJ submissions, Sensation, badminton matches.....
